Dysautonomia International

11th Annual Conference

Washington, DC • July 14-17, 2023

Join Dysautonomia International for the world's largest conference on autonomic nervous system disorders! Guests will enjoy a fantastic weekend of educational seminars, engaging speakers, and social events on July 14-16, at the Hyatt Regency Dulles in metropolitan Washington, DC, followed by Dysautonomia Advocacy Day on Capitol Hill on July 17. There will be teen programming for ages 12-19, as well as adult programming.

Many of the world's leading experts on autonomic disorders are joining us, as well as other engaging speakers on topics of interest to the dysautonomia community. Topics will include postural orthostatic tachycardia syndrome, neurocardiogenic syncope, autoimmune autonomic ganglionopathy, pure autonomic failure, multiple system atrophy, gastroparesis, autonomic neuropathies, Ehlers-Danlos syndrome, mast cell activation syndrome, Sjogren's disease, long COVID, chronic pain management, coping with chronic illness, advocacy training, standard and holistic treatment approaches, research updates, and more!

We are implementing COVID-19 prevention policies to protect the health of our guests. COVID testing will be provided before entering the conference and masking will be required throughout the conference.

For questions, contact us via email at conference@dysautonomiainternational.org or by phone at 631-202-1720.
